On August 28, 1942, at 6:15 P. M., William Turnbull, Mine Foreman, employed in the Castle Mine of the Big Vein Coal Company of Lonaconing, Md., Pittsburgh or Big Vein coal seam, was fatally injured by electrocution.

Mr. William Turnbull, Night Shift Foreman in Castle Mine, was killed while attempting to put an electric lamp globe in the socket in the weigh-office of Castle Mine. The officials of the Power Company, who tested the line on Saturday, August 29th, 1942, said that Mr. Turnbull received about 900 to 1000 volts, caused by faulty transformers, which were very badly installed and had no grounding of any kind. All wires and switches were in very bad condition, and the victim was apparently dead when found by Mr. Charles T. Johnson, the weighman, who was outside the building, and no attempt was made to revive this man by artificial respiration for any length of time.

On February 2, 1942, about 12:30 P. M., Norman Michaels, a miner, employed in the Moran Mine, operated by Frankland, Michaels and Davis, near Westernport, Md., Sewickley coal seam, was fatally injured by a fall of roof.

They were breaking off a cross-cut, had laid curve and were putting up king bar. The king bar had been set and they were removing legs under cross bars. They removed one leg and victim was cutting out another; when the leg was weakened, weight came on king bar twisting it out, permitting the place to cave in. ### FATAL ACCIDENTS—1942

There were three (3) fatal accidents during the calendar year 1942. The first one was a miner who was killed while working in a truck mine in the Tyson Seam on Franklin Hill, near Westernport. The second accident was the electrocution of a night mine foreman in the weight-scale house at a Big Vein mine near Lonaconing. The third accident occurred in a shaft mine, in Garrett County, during December, 1942, but the victim of the accident did not die until January, 1943. However, by the rules governing such matters the fatality was dated back to the time when the accident occurred. In this instance a machine-runner received a fatal injury from a fall of breast coal, which fall occurred while the runner was operating his machine.

There were approximately 435 non-fatal accidents during the year 1942. This number includes compensable as well as non-compensable accidents.

Prosecutions

In the enforcement of the Law passed in the 1941 session of the Legislature, requiring small mines to install scales for weighing the miners' coal, it was found necessary to prosecute several small mine operators for failure to obey this law. On December 23, 1942, four operators of small mines were each fined $3.00 and costs of $2.75.

On March 31, 1942, a miner was fined $5.00 and costs amounting to $1.50 for acting in an unlawful and disorderly manner while a motor-trip was being assembled to enter a mine in Allegany County.

Labor Conditions

There were no labor troubles nor cessations of work during the calendar year 1942.

The larger mines were continually losing employees to war industries and to other sources of employment, and this, together with considerable absenteeism, added to the difficulties of maintaining a good daily output of coal. The small mines were likewise troubled by shortage of manpower owing to the fact that the miners went to more lucrative employment in war industries.

There was decided difficulty at first in obtaining supplies and repairs for mine equipment and there was also some difficulty in obtaining an adequate supply of mine timber. On the other hand there was a ceiling price on coal and the strange anomaly was presented of coal companies, in many instances, declining orders for coal.

The prosperity of the steel industry was reflected in the increased amount of working time for the fire clay mines and in the fire clay brick works. However, the fire clay industry suffered in the same way, insofar as labor was concerned, as the coal mines, but not quite to as great extent. The condition of the fire clay industry is evident in the total amount of tonnage produced in the fire clay mines during the calendar year 1942.

Report on the Night Mining Classes

The Night Mining Classes, conducted by the Maryland Bureau of Mines, in cooperation with the University of Maryland, the State Department of Education and the County Boards of Education of Allegany and Garrett Counties, opened their sessions September 29, 1941, and closed May 23, 1942.

The classes were grouped in two districts, the Upper Potomac District, in charge of Instructor Hutson; the George's Creek District, in charge of Instructor Ewing.

REPORT OF THE UPPER POTOMAC DISTRICT*Organization and Schedule

The Night Mining Classes were organized and conducted at the following points in the Upper Potomac District:

Vindex:

CONCLUSION

The enrollment this year as compared to that of last year, is approximately 30 per cent less, while the attendance percentage of the men enrolled increased 8 per cent over that of last year.

A new course given for the first time, termed Air Coursing, was well received and some excellent results were obtained.

The cooperation received from the employers and employees alike, was, as usual, excellent.

REPORT OF THE GEORGE'S CREEK DISTRICT*Organization and Schedule

Night Mining Classes were organized, in the George's Creek District, at the following points:

Finzel:

Average age of men.....	34.5 years

Average previous educational preparation....	8.4 years

CONCLUSION

There was an increase of 32 per cent in enrollment, as compared to last year. The average attendance of men enrolled dropped 10 per cent from last year. This was due, at least partially, to the increased number of men employed on the night shifts, toward the latter part of the term, in an effort to increase the production of coal and fire clay.

The percentage of miners (men working at the face) increased 25 per cent over last year.

For the second consecutive year all (100 per cent) of the men enrolled were native-born Americans.

In general, the classes were well received and supported, and the efforts put forth by the majority of the students, to gain a knowledge of the industry, was commendable.

REPORT ON THE SHORT COURSE IN COAL MINING—1942

L. C. HUTSON, Director

The twentieth annual Short Course in Coal Mining, held at Kempton, Garrett County, Maryland, conducted by the Maryland Bureau of Mines in cooperation with the University of Maryland, the State Department of Education and the County Boards of Education of Allegany and Garrett Counties, opened June 15, 1942, and closed July 24, 1942.

The six weeks of the Course were held in the Kempton High School building, at Kempton, Md.

Instruction Staff and Subjects

L. C. Hutson.....	Explosives, Coal Mine Ventilation, Map Reading, Coal Mine Gases, Mining Arithmetic, Mine Fires and Explosions, Safety Lamps.
J. J. Rutledge.....	Mining Methods.
John A. Shore.....	Mining Arithmetic.

CONCLUSION

The average age of the students was 38 years.

The average daily attendance was 10.3 with an enrollment of 11 men.

The Short Course this year was largely an experiment, in that due to war-time conditions, the hours were shortened, the number of subjects were curtailed, and due to transportation difficulties the enrollment was limited to a restricted area.

All of the men enrolled worked their full shift at the mine each day and then attended the four-hour period of instruction, 4:30 to 8:30 P. M., five afternoons each week for the six weeks period. Together with their written work, this made a heavy load, but it was carried both cheerfully and efficiently.
